FROM THE RABBI

Why Are We Visiting the Cemetery?

On the afternoon of October 9th, I will be visiting Beth Shalom Cemetery at 1:00 p.m. and Eagle Point Cemetery at 2:00 p.m., and inviting all those with loved ones buried there to join me for special prayers. Why do we do this? What is this custom all about?

First, please understand what this is not. Whereas other cultures and religions pray to the dead for various things, we do not. We only pray to Hashem, our G-d. Why then do we go to the cemetery, and why now?

We, as Jews, have a strong connection to our past. It is our history that grounds us, both personal and communal. As we approach the new year, we remind ourselves of that history by visiting and praying at the graves of loved ones. Some also have the custom of going to the graves of righteous ones from the past. We ask Hashem to remember their greatness and as a result to take mercy on us.

As we enter the year 5777, let us remember all of our rich history as Jews. Through that remembrance may we bring ourselves closer to Hashem and ultimate redemption. May we all be inscribed and sealed for a good year.

Rabbi Evan B. Rubin

FROM THE PRESIDENT

THE DIMENSION OF TIME

Nearly the entire month of October, 2016/Tishrei 5777 is very well aligned in the new Jewish year. That is just an observation I made while preparing to write this article. I love the Jewish calendar because it is ours to keep. We have our own time.

We are finding out more and more about what it really means to keep track of time. Time brings motion into our lives and by virtue of time our world becomes dynamic. Time is the added dimension we must have to be alive in the world that surrounds us.

It is time for us to celebrate the New Year, our New Year, 5777. L'shanah tovah! As we come together in the synagogue, let us all wish one another a healthy, sweet and prosperous 5777 and extend the same wishes to the entire community.

We continue to strive for peace in our time. G-d willing, the New Year will bring tranquility to us as individuals, to our families and to our world.

Have a wonderful, sweet Rosh Hashana and a tranquil Yom Kippur.

Let's all dance together at Simchas Torah as we celebrate another year together.

Danny Becker, President
